AFTER 50 YEARS OF MILITARY DICTATORSHIP, Burma's first girl band faces a tough reality. When you're finally allowed to speak, what do you say? Miss Nikki and the Tiger Girls is an intimate portrait of a spirited young band manager as she tries to empower Myanmar's first all-girl band to speak out in one of the world's most repressive regimes. After auditioning 100 hopefuls, a grueling and often comical process, five girls are chosen to be the Tiger Girls. The film shows them learning to trust Nikki and each other and the challenges they face as a band.

The Pruitt-Igoe Myth

June 10, 8:00 pm;
June 11, 8:00 am & 2:00 pm;
June 14, 10:00 pm;
June 15, 9:00 am & 5:00 pm

IN THE POST-WORLD WAR II years, the American city changed in ways that made it unrecognizable from a generation earlier, providing privilege to some and leaving others in its wake. This film tells the story of the wholesale changes that took place through the lens of the infamous Pruitt-Igoe housing development in St. Louis. Destroyed in a dramatic and highly-publicized implosion, the Pruitt-Igoe public housing complex has become a widespread symbol of failure among architects, politicians and policy makers. The documentary explores the issues that led to the decline of conventional public housing in America, while tracing the poignant narratives of some of the project's residents.

Healed: Music, Medicine and Life with MS

June 25, 6:00 pm & 9:00 pm; June 26, 10:00 am & 4:00 pm; June 29, 1:00 pm

RENOWNED CORNET VIRTUOSO JIM KLAGES was at the height of his career, having achieved his dream as soloist for the elite "President's Own" U.S. Marine Band in Washington D.C., when he was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis. As Jim's health deteriorated, he was faced with his ultimate challenge: finding his way back to the music that had once sustained him. Jim persevered, determined to heal himself through composing and teaching. Healed illuminates the ways in which the creative spirit adapts not only to survive, but to thrive.
